—Rock river is still on the rise at this point.
—Light spring shower at an early hour this morning.
—Apples are selling at five dollars per barrel in this market.
—The caucuses for the city and ward officers are becoming quite lively.
—There are but few candidates this spring for non-salaried city offices.
—Several aspirants for place in the municipal government are just now on the "ragged edge."
—The democrats will probably hold their caucuses on Friday evening of this week.
—Janessville City Lodge No. 90, I. O. O. F., occupy Old Fellows' hall this evening.
—The indications are that the republican caucuses will be largely attended to-morrow evening.
—The butter consumers of Rockford are experiencing some trouble with the bogus butter dealers.
—John Brady was sentenced to five days at hard labor in the county jail today for drunkenness.
—A cold, drizzling rain has prevailed in the city nearly all day, making it very disagreeable to be out of doors.
—Mrs. R. D. Stewart and son, of Highland Park, Ill., are visiting Mrs. Stewart's brother, J. W. Hodgdon, and family, of the first ward.
—Remember the social party to be given by the members of Crystal Temple of Honor, in Apollo hall on Friday evening of this week.
—It is generally conceded that the republicans will nominate high license candidates, and stake their success on that issue on Tuesday.
—The prevailing weather is not calculated to bring very many "tidings of comfort and joy" to people having business to attend to out of doors.
—The Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph—"Oglethorpe, the able lawyer and superb orator, of Janessville, was a guest at the plankton on Friday."
—Major R. F. Stevens' new house on South Bluff street, third ward, is enclosed, and the carpenters are crowding the interior work to completion.

—The wooden awning in front of the Watson block on West Milwaukee street, has been taken down—and some say it makes an improvement in the appearance of the building.
—The Gazette publishes to-day by request, the high license ticket, with a special request that it be kept standing until election day. The Gazette does this without assuming to endorse the ticket or not.

THE JANEVILLE GUARDS are making extensive preparations for their annual masquerade party to be given on the evening of April 15th. The committee contemplate a large attendance, and will leave nothing undone to make their guests feel at home.

The examination of William Canary (or an assault on Alexander Carey) with intent to do great bodily harm on the 7th of February, is taking place to-day in the municipal court, J. W. Sale appears for state and O. H. Fethers for defendant.

To-day, the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin, is a holy day of great importance in the Catholic Church. Services were held in both Catholic churches of our city, this forenoon, and despite disagreeable weather, were well attended.

Mr. David Billings, one of the carpenters at work on Mr. H. S. Woodruff's new house on Jackson street, fell, yesterday afternoon, through a chimney hole on the second floor, to the floor below, the fall breaking his collar bone. He was attended by Dr. Q. O. Sutherland and is now doing well.

Mr. Sullivan, one of the lamp lighters, found a horse and buggy while he was extinguishing the lamps late last night. The horse had evidently been deserted by its owner, and Mr. Sullivan took it in charge, and this morning turned the property over to the marshal, in whose possession it now awaits the owner.

Messrs. Campbell & Stevens, real estate agents, made two very important sales of real estate to-day, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather. Through their popular agency Mr. Andrew Leone's farm of one hundred and thirty acres, four miles south of the city, was sold to Mr. W. Cadwell, the purchasing price being $5,200. The other was the sale of a house and three lots in the first ward, belonging to Mr. Cadwell, the price being $1,000.

As announced in the Gazette some weeks ago, the Janessville silver plate company has closed up its business in this city, and removed to Madison, Indiana, where Messrs. Lock & Hart have been offered better inducements for such a factory than they could possibly obtain here. Messrs. Lock & Hart left on Saturday for their new home, shipping their machinery on that day, and last evening Mr. Orrin Bemis, the business manager of the firm, followed. The many friends of the above gentlemen in this city, while regretting the necessity of their leaving our city, will wish them all abundant success in their new home.

She had evidently been a school teacher, and understood the mode of explaining things to the juvenile mind. She was on the cars, with her little grand-son, and while waiting at Alton, the boy's attention was attracted to the large letters on a box car standing on the side track. "C. & N. W. R. L." This was a snub to the youthful mind and he appealed to his grandfather for an explanation. The old lady had evidently traveled over many railroads, as she was quite familiar with the names of many of the railroads in different parts of the country. She explained the initial letters as follows: "C" stands for Chicago, "N" for north, "W" for western, and "R" for railway. That means that those cars belong to the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

On this truck stood some thirty or forty cars, many of them belonging to different roads. The little fellow commenced to push his investigation, and the lady readily gave the true interpretation, until a "blue line" came along, evidently from the south, bearing the letters "F. A. and G. C. R. L.," this puzzled our lady friend, and appealing to a traveling man in the next seat, he stated that it was a freight car and belonged to the Florida, Atlantic and Gulf Central railroad. This seemed to satisfy the small boy, as he seemed to be under the impression that the cars were the property of a farmer, who was liable to take possession of them at any moment. At the same time we inquired of ourself, whose duty it was to keep track of the cars, thus sent so far away from the road to which they belonged. It is also a puzzle for an old head to rightly interpret the names of the different railroad companies by the "initials" on the cars of a single train passing by this station. It often happens that a whole train is made up, without a car owned by the company using them.

Popillon Skin Cure, Popillon Catarrh Cure, Popillon Cough Cure, manufactured by the Popillon Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, Ill., and advertised in this paper is for sale by Palmer & Stevens and Prentice & Evenson.

The Minstrels.
There was a large audience at the opera house last night to hear H. Henry's operatic minstrel company. The first part was especially good. The singing was far above the average heard at minstrel shows. Some of it was exceedingly fine, more particularly that of the Mul-don quartet. Mr. Bowers created much merriment and enthusiastic applause by the song.

"Things of Comfort and Joy."
Mr. C. H. Bartlett, the interlocutor, sang a beautiful song, "I've gathered Them In," with excellent effect. There was a large number of excellent musical specialties in the first part, aside from the jokes, that kept the audience busy laughing. The old tournament was very good, so was the somersaults of Robby Beach.

L. H. Patterson, Copaka, N. Y., takes a true view of the situation. The latest remark: "For five years I have suffered intensely from Rheumatism in my chest. Would be in the doctor's hands for two and three months at a time. At the end of my son, I tried various remedies, but to no purpose when I was relieved of all pain after taking one bottle. It saved me quite a sum of money, and what is better, I did not have to endure weeks of agony."

The Weather.
At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 10 degrees above zero. Raining, with northeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 45 degrees above zero. Raining with north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 20 and 44 degrees above zero.

The Surgeon's Stories.
Times of Frederick A. An Historical Romance of the period preceding the reign of Charles XII. From the Swedish. By Frederick A. (Vol. IV of the Series). New York: Stearns & Baker, 12 No. 37, Price, $1.25.

In this, the fourth volume of The Surgeon's Stories, Prof. Topelius has drawn a wonderful picture of the condition of Sweden in the ever-memorable period succeeding the Times of Charles XII—a period of exhaustion entailed by the brilliant exploits of the great warrior. We find Sweden, newly shorn of many rich provinces, indulging in a breathing spell, a fusion of old men and babies, the anarchy of combined Europe; a nation recoiling from the surfeit of blood, the brave too deeply wounded without and within to draw a sword, while aspirants are quarrelling like vultures over the fallen but still breathing body of patriotism; astonishing by their heartless rapacity, even the nations who have robbed her of all save life, and enough honor, somewhat under the rubbish of the times, to set the divinity again on her feet. This striking picture, drawn by the hand of a master, is the somber background upon which is wrought out a charming and romantic story. In it the thread of the "King's Ring" running through all the volumes, and the fascinating mystery by which it is surrounded, are never for a moment lost sight of. Prof. Topelius' inimitable descriptive powers, his poetry and his humor, are perhaps nowhere seen in happier combination than in this brilliant and fascinating romance.

For sale by James Sutherland & Sons, Janessville, Wis.

A Word About City Politics.
The caucuses for the selection of delegates to the city convention which meet on Thursday afternoon, will be held in the several wards on Wednesday evening at half-past seven. Of course, every republican knows the importance of attending the caucuses, and he also understands that the city convention has a somewhat difficult question to answer. For this reason, the caucuses should be well attended, so that the delegates sent to the convention will fairly represent the prevailing republican sentiment on the license question.

The question that just now most concerns the republicans is that regarding the endorsement of a portion of the high license ticket, especially that for city offices. There are some republicans who believe that it would be the wiser plan to endorse the nominations of Rockford and Church, while others are in favor of making nominations independent of the high license ticket. The delegates to the convention are admonished to act wisely concerning this matter. It will require the work of clear heads and the exercise of sound judgment to save the party from defeat this spring. The democratic party is solid. One might say, against high license. There may be one democrat here and there who wants the license increased, but as a party it is bitterly opposed to any reform of that kind. If the republicans should solidly unite on an unobjectionable ticket put in nomination by the convention, it will probably be elected. Under the circumstances, the southeast seems to prevail that it would be a wise action to nominate Mr. Rockford and Mr. Church for mayor and clerk respectively. No one has the presumption to say that Mr. Rockford is not a fit man for mayoralty, for in fact he is a gentleman of excellent attainments, has had a thorough business training, and certainly no one will deny the statement that he has firmness and backbone enough to make a good mayor. As to Mr. Church, there is no one to question his eminent fitness for city clerk. He has made a splendid official, and to his, both parties can bear testimony.

It is not now known who will be the nominees for the other city offices. Several names have been mentioned, but none have been definitely settled upon. The city attorney seems to create three or four republican candidates, but as yet it is difficult to state which takes the lead. Mr. Hyzer, who has filled the office for the past four years is not a candidate for re-nomination—that is he will not enter into any strife for the nomination. He has made a splendid record as city attorney, filling the position with that ability and wisdom that have never been surpassed by any of his predecessors.

The republican leaders understand pretty clearly the drift of public sentiment in the city and the issue raised this spring. Intelligent and thoughtful men will act cautiously and wisely both in regard to the city tickets and the ward tickets. Put up good men—men of moral strength and business capacity—men who will not dilly-dally with the issues that shall come up in the council.

You will find all medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's, opposite postoffice, Janessville. Medicines sent in liquid form sent by mail. Prescriptions and receipts prepared from pure drugs, cheaper than at any other reliable druggist in the county.

Forced Ventilated Cellars.
A good joke was perpetrated on a west side business man last evening and this morning—that is, considering his high license tendencies and the fact that he is just now a popular candidate for the nomination of alderman in one of the wards. Undoubtedly our high license friend's place of business is an unventilated cellar; and an adjoining firm, anticipating a large apple crop this season, went around the city and purchased all the empty whisky barrels that could be found, for the purpose of holding cider, and rented the aforesaid basement for storing the barrels. Last evening the barrels were put into the cellar, one hundred or more, and the doors and windows closed tightly. This morning when our temperance friend entered his place of business, he found a very uncomfortable perfume pervading the premises. He called in his neighbors to investigate, his neighbors all being of the low license party, at once "timbered," and insisted that the high license man had some whisky stored away under the counter, and a general search was commenced. Finally the owner of the barrels dropped in, and taking in the situation of affairs, he opened the cellar windows, which allowed the escape of the whisky odor on the outside of the building. Our high license friend had a good many visitors during the forenoon, as the news spread rapidly, and of course all his friends were compelled to drop in and congratulate him on his supposed change of heart.
